

Ständchen

Franz Schubert

Schwanengesang (The Swan Song) is one of the most famous lieder written by Schubert. This piece is the fourth song of the work. The serenade [Ständchen] is the song for lover sung from below the window at night.

The main melody comes and goes between the first and second players but it should sound as if one player plays it. Play arguments scrupulously and sing like having a dialogue.